Dear Lucy,

How are you doing? We haven't seen each other since last Christmas. It's springtime. You know, Easter is coming. It's an important festival to celebrate the rebirth of Jesus in both Europe and America. Will you go Easter egg hunting as usual? Searching for Easter eggs is a tradition, isn't it? I've never done that before. It must be so much fun. Recently, many people in Taiwan also like to celebrate Easter by coloring the eggs, especially for children. I think American culture has a great influence on Taiwan. This weekend, I am going to the supermarket to buy some jelly beans and marshmallows with my mom. Besides, my classmates and I will hold the Easter egg roll at school. Maybe I can share something interesting about the Easter in Taiwan with you next time.

Yours sincerely,
Ming-Ming

This season, there is a seasonal flu vaccine to protect you against the seasonal flu virus and a 2009 H1N1 vaccine to protect you against the 2009 H1N1 flu virus. A flu vaccine is the first and the most important step in keeping you from getting infected. The following are some everyday actions that can help prevent the spread of germs that cause respiratory illness like the flu.

Take these everyday steps to protect your health:

- Cover your nose and mouth with a tissue when you cough or sneeze. Throw the tissue in the trash can after you use it.
- Wash your hands often with soap and water. If soap and water are not available, use an alcohol-based hand rub.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose or mouth because germs spread this way.
- Try to avoid close contact with sick people.
- If you are sick with flu-like illness, we recommend that you stay home for at least 24 hours after your fever is gone except for getting medical care or for other necessities.
